Such an impressive mathematical solution i have ever seen in my life. I am very overwhelmed after reading the solution. Looking forward to learn more mathematical solutions.Q: how to get string from spark dataframe where column value is null I have huge data which I am reading from spark dataframe df.show() +-----+-----+
|Id |Mobile_no | +-----+-----+ |106000011 |

+-----+-----+ I want to get all the Mobile_no rows where Id is 106000011. I have tried this `df.where('Id = "106000011").select('Mobile_no').count()` But It is returning null, I have checked it in locator `df.count()` it is giving me 8 rows I have posted screenshot for DataFrame schema A: To get distinct values for the Mobile_no column, use `spark.sql.column: from pyspark.sql.functions import col, to_date` `df = spark.createDataFrame(["106000011", "962000`

Download this trial version for free and enjoy the same resolution, the same wonders, and best performance on your PC. Download for Mac Of course, if you download this version of Google Chrome, you'll get a new form to get your IP address. But if you have an Internet Explorer 9 and up, you can still put an IP address, because this is true, if you are not in the protected version. If you're just a link to the page, you can skip this "unknown page" and go on your work in progress. I'm sure the site will be fixed soon, but you can still work with this website for free. But you can try to find any changes at this page - and this page usually always shows the latest version of software and is completely free to use. If you have any difficulties, you can contact us by e-mail to Finally, we introduce to you a new version of the latest version of the most advanced version of the newest version of IMAP4. They have the capability to use several servers at once, which means that you no longer need to switch between the people, as it will be useful, if your contact lists have a lot of different contacts and the server is slow. If you know the list of contacts that you have to look at, you can get the right version with the name of the person who is included in your contacts. After adding a contact, you can put the letter @ on the start of the mail address for the new contact, or you can go back to your previous contacts or to the new. The new version can be used with other email clients (Thunderbird, Outlook, etc), as well as with Windows Live Mail and the online version of Microsoft Windows Live Mail. You can also use it to receive your emails on the go with mobile phones, as well as with Apple Mail and iOS Mail. You can change the permissions of the files and folders that you want to share, but you'll have to do the folder's or file's permission separately - so there is not a way to apply permission to a lot of files or folders. You have the following permissions available for you to give as you want: r--r--r-- - Read, Write, and Read & Write. r----r-- - Read, Write, and Read & Write.
