Q: How to use the find_in_set function in case of storing at the same time as a single column? The documentation for the find_in_set() function says: Return the index of the first occurrence of substring'substring' in string'string'. If the substring is not found, return the index at the end of the string. How should i use this function, if im storing the data at the same time as a single column? I have a table of some type: CREATE TABLE T (id INT PRIMARY KEY AUTO_INCREMENT, name VARCHAR(64) DEFAULT NULL, surname VARCHAR(64) DEFAULT NULL, name_en VARCHAR(64) DEFAULT NULL, surname_en VARCHAR(64) DEFAULT NULL) Is it correct to use the following query? SELECT name, surname, find_in_set(name, surname) FROM T If so, will the query above return the row of the same name with name_en? A: It returns the "positions" of the names in the surname column and not of the strings themselves. If you simply want to return the "strings", use REGEXP_SUBSTR instead: SELECT REGEXP_SUBSTR(name, '[^\w]+') AS name, REGEXP_SUBSTR(surname, '[^\w]+') AS surname FROM T; That returns for your first example: name surname ----- ceo dito ceo
